

KILLERTON ANNUAL DINNER
1971

The description which you are about to read concerns a body of men who have braved their lives in the course of their duty. These men belong to a regiment known as the Killerton Pantaloon 69th Division.

Commander in chief.

Jack Goodall. He is a really good all rounder, has kept a steady control throughout the term, popular, happy, has been approached by St. Bruno to star in their latest advertisement. Likes his whisky because it makes him frisky, hence his smiling face. Decorated for; Building evacuation.

Commanders, our guests.

Mr. HARVARD. Hails from the Costa del Tydvil, well educated, speaks fluent Piagetese a welcomed guest.

Mr. COCKROFT. An economist of great distinction, never at a loss for making a profit hope he enjoys the evening.

Generals.

Jorah Jones. Author of that well known book, Do Dogs Bark, gives his all to the house and to other people. Has taunted his way through the term, indulging in many strenuous gymnastic positions coming through them with flying pants.

Decorated for; Bravery in a tight situation.

Dickler Dickson. Holds a good position in Killerton, and in bed, wondered at for his feats of duration on the open front. Men will have to go a long way to match his triumphs and his imps. Decorated for; His stand at the battle of the Big Horn.

Bunny Pye. Known in Preston as "are you ready eddie", has a long line of distinctions. Among them his book on the Rise and Fall of the sextant. His rabbit tendencies has led bunny into many unlikely holes. Dec for; Prevention of cruelty to Nuns.

Kwango Fisher. Holds the Killerton record for cucumber growing, has dropped his seeds in many tight corners. The prize cucumber is continually on show in room 2, viewing by appointment only. Dec" for; Splitting the enemy's defences while under duress.

Chopper Bradbury. As his name suggests chopper is a very fine lumberjack, and has felled a few in his time. Has no troubles as he comes from Pill, merely nurses his way through them. Dec"for; Upholding Bristols while drunk.

Harris de Paris. Continental flavour about Chris just been assigned to Smiths to produce sensual peanuts, tee-totaler, he drinks nothing but lemonade and meths, and has won girls over by a mere twitch of his nose. Dec"for; His interpretation of squash.

Oggie Hoskin. Nobel prize winner for hedging and ditching in 1936, has made his stamp on most willing Cornish girls. Is on record as saying "mabyn they don't, but I do". Gives all he has got'. Dec"for; Standing firm while the enemy thrusts.
