

Hi

Just a quick note (have to go out and celebrate Pompey gaining promotion, winning the league title and finding a billionaire who wants to buy the club)

I've received a (reduced) menu for the Fishermans Cot for the meal on the Saturday evening 24th June. As I mentioned previously, I will assemble the order and pass it to them prior to the weekend so that they are more easily able to manage the catering arrangements.

If you could let me know if you (and partner) are planning to attend and let me have your meal choices asap it would be appreciated.

If you've not already done so, can you let John and/or Taff know if you are available to play. Already had one injury reported, Gerry Kendrick is suffering a skiing injury so won't be playing this year.

Steve
