LUKE'S COLLEGE, EXETER

Welcome to the Stoop Memorial Ground for this the fifteenth encounter between Loughborough Colleges and St. Luke's College, Exeter. St. Luke's are leading the series by nine matches to five.

The club would like to extend a warm welcome to their guests today. We feel deeply indebted to Harlequins Rugby Football Club for the use of their ground; and especially to Wing Commander J. Seldon, I. Llewellyn-Jones, Bruce Chapman and Steve Thomas for all the help they have given us.

The preparation of a programme such as this is never an easy task and a special vote of thanks must go to L. D. Gardiner and M. Rafter for their help in providing us with the vital information for St. Luke's. Apologies also to any player whose last minute efforts earned them a place in their College team, and then found they 'were not spotlighted' in this programme.

Finally, we hope you all enjoy a first-class exhibition of open, running rugby. To all college students it will undoubtedly be one of the most tense and exciting games they will ever experience. Thank you all for your support.

Loughborough Play St. Luke's

by W. S. Dannelly, President, Loughborough Colleges Rugby Club

This meeting of Loughborough and St. Luke's is a culmination of all that is good in college football. The game between the Colleges has become a tradition, demonstrating all that is good in rugby football. We have thirty young men who have worked, trained, and worried themselves to a pitch to produce football that will excite and entertain us today. No quarter will be given, or asked, but I trust this will always be within the laws of the game.

The faster and more open play the greater the enjoyment of all concerned, and the less risk of serious injury. This was noted in the match between the Barbarians and the All Blacks, So, regardless of the outcome, I believe the game today will be a victory for rugby football.

The players I envy for their privilege of playing. The coaches I admire for their skill and hard work and the nerve racking months of preparation. The parents of the players I thank for their support, and I acknowledge the pride they must feel in their sons. To those not playing today; the supporting fifteens I send my best wishes for their future rugby careers. Of all the students at the Colleges unfortunately only fifteen can play today.

Our thanks are also due to three people without whose services the match could not take place; the referee and the touch judges, hoping that the players will respect their unquestioning authority.

To the Harlequin Rugby Football Club Committee and members, I offer our gratitude for allowing us to use their venue for this most important date in our rugby year. May today's game be worthy of the man who gives his name to the ground. I wish both teams well. I hope the best team wins; I look forward to a great game (with a little bias).

St. Luke's season so far

The beginning of the season was marred only by the fact that Alan Jones. the College captain, reported for preseason training with a badly injured hip. Alan trained and coached the side to four good wins early on, to set the standard for the season. However, the pressures of four games in two weeks took their toll, leaving the captain with further injury problems. On top of this County calls robbed us on occasions of a number of our more experienced players. Ironically this benefited the club, realizing we had strength in depth. The players who stood in, as it were, performed admirably. The competition for first team places has been unusually hot and this term, so close to the Loughborough game, it has reached almost fever pitch.

The first XV have pulled off some excellent performances this season against some of the stronger clubs in the country, notably Bristol and Northampton, and although narrowly losing both, brought credit to themselves and the College. Surprising results have come in the form of Cheltenham and Barnstaple. The College lost both of these games to weaker opposition due to a lack of urgency in the team's play. I am happy to report, however, that the self-confidence and determination is once again becoming apparent in the Luke's style of play, as was admirably displayed in the winter term against Esher and Barnstaple.

Finally, we are indebted to Martin Underwood for the time he has given up for the team, both advising and coaching. Some very rewarding sessions have resulted, all with an aim to reverse last season's result. The College looks forward to this morning's encounter and a display of good, open rugby.

Loughborough season so far

The first XV got off to an excellent start with a win against the Leicestershire county side and then narrowly lost to Moseley, surely one of the strongest club sides in England, finishing the game with only thirteen players.

As usual injuries and County calls took a heavy toll on our first team squad and consequently lost the next three games. However, due to our depth of talent the team recovered to produce some sound performances.

At the time of writing the team has gained a place in the semi-final of the U.A.U. championship with some high scores totalling 258 points in five games, culminating in a 55—6 win against Bangor University in the quarter finals.

During the season the first XV has been forced to call upon the services of over forty players, and it is a comforting thought that all of them have the ability to be included in today's side. It is a pity that only fifteen can have the privilege of playing today.

We approach this match with seven consecutive wins behind us and, having overcome injury difficulties, seem to have hit peak form at the right time. The St. Luke's game is only the start of an extremely hard end to the season, which includes matches against Gloucester, Rosslyn Park, Broughton Park and Leicester Tigers.

The club is deeply indebted to John Smith, Rod Thorpe and Rex Hazeldene, who have coached the supporting teams. A special mention must go to Jim Greenwood for all the work he has done for the club and the first XV.

Today's Referee: Mr. R. F. Johnson (England)

Our referee today needs no introduction to rugby followers. Mr. Johnson has taken charge of almost every big game at some time or another. I would like to also give a sincere vote of thanks to Mr. Gwynne Walters, who has stood by in case Mr. Johnson could not make today's game. We trust that Mr. Johnson will enjoy today's game as much as the players and spectators.
